- Clearing any kind of translation (recitation and musical) or a backing track of many of the following artist's songs will be very difficult to broadcast.

If you decide to use songs from this list, we cannot guarantee your performance will be broadcast, so it is best to avoid them.

AC/DC, The Crazy World of Arthur Brown, Bob Dylan, Bruce Springsteen, George Harrison, The Travelling Wilburys, The Beatles, Paul McCartney, Metallica.

We advise you to phone the following number to discuss further. We do not wish to confine the choice of songs by these artists, therefore we advise you to phone this number for further advice –

Avanti TV Company - 02920 566729.

- Disney does not accept any translations. The only way that you can include any song by Disney is to contact them directly and ask them to translate for you and you then pay Disney. For any advice on this, please phone this number – Avanti TV Company - 02920 566729.
- Translations of songs belonging to American companies (either wholly or a percentage of the song) is problematic and will most likely take longer to clear. We can assist with finding information on the American publishers if you phone Avanti TV Company – 02920 566729. If the decision is to go ahead with a particular song after contacting the company in the US, you will need to send a translation to us beforehand in order for us to discuss it with you before sending it on to the publishers. This will need to happen during September.

Some companies such as Boosey and Hawkes will charge a performing fee for translations. It is the competitor's responsibility to pay this fee.

- Soliloquy/Monologue – the same rule applies to translations of dramatic and literary works.
- WJEC Literary Works The fact that the WJEC has cleared works for WJEC exams and oral performances does not mean that they have been cleared for further performances and broadcasts. You will need to contact the publisher directly in order to clear them for competition purposes.
