

#FELMERCH

Evaluation of the
#FelMerch National Conference
05 & 06 March 2022

Background

#FelMerch is a project by the Urdd Sports Department, supported by Sport Wales, which has been established specifically to inspire, support, and empower young women and girls to keep active and break down the barriers that prevent women and girls from participating in sport.

Inspire . Support . Empower

This two-day #FelMerch National Conference was Wales' first-ever female youth sports conference which provided opportunities for women and girls to come together to be inspired and empowered. It was hosted by the ultra-marathon trailblazing runner and TV presenter Lowri Morgan. Gemma Grainger, Wales Women's National football team manager, and four-time Paralympian Hollie Arnold MBE were our headline speakers. We were also in the esteemed presence of specialists in their fields delivering a variety of workshops around health and wellbeing, body image, healthy eating, disability sport, equality, resilience and much more.

“All young women deserve the same opportunities and that’s why I’m delighted to be part of the first-ever young women’s sport conference in Wales, #FelMerch, helping to inspire, empower and provide opportunities to help young people women and girls to realize their full potential and achieve their goals”

Hollie Arnold MBE

Content of the Conference

Over the weekend we provided travel, accommodation and food for 140 young women and girls 14 – 25 years old from all over Wales to enjoy the company of experts in their fields to inspire, support and empower.

“The wider #FelMerch initiative is vitally important in growing girls’ participation and offering more opportunities in all sports across Wales.

“I have been fortunate enough to see the success of #FelMerch first-hand at the Urdd Centre in Llangrannog, and the Urdd’s support in organising fan buses to our Cymru matches.

“I am excited to see how #FelMerch will continue to develop in the future.”

Gemma Grainger, Wales Women's National Team Manager

“The diversity of guest speakers was amazing throughout the weekend, fantastic workshops, and an opportunity to socialise once again with new people after COVID”

Actions From the Conference

As a result of the National #FelMerch Conference, the #FelMerch project commits to continuing to break down the barriers by ensuring the following actions locally and nationally;

- Develop and establish 12 regional #FelMerch hubs across Wales
- Continue to develop and establish #FelMerch provision during the holidays
- Continue and grow the Regional and National Forums
- Ensure #FelMerch Ambassador representation on the Urdd Sport and Apprenticeships Board in order to ensure a voice for young women and girls in Wales whilst developing strategies
- Provide volunteering pathways including a programme of Continuous Professional Development (CPD) for young women and girls
- Continue to recruit #FelMerch ambassadors to ensure attainment in all Urdd regions across Wales
- Engage more partners locally and nationally to the #FelMerch programme
- Engage young women and girls in raising awareness of #FelMerch at events i.e. trips to Welsh women's international games across a range of sports

Future of the Conference

Following the huge success of Wales' first female youth sports conference; National #FelMerch Conference, discussions have begun to hold this conference as an annual event for the women and girls of Wales on a bigger and better scale. To ensure success we will;

- Increase the number of spaces available to reach a greater target audience
- Offer access on a day-by-day basis to reach a more local audience and different demographics e.g. young mothers
- Use of local sports facilities to offer more practical workshops
- Form the content of the conference in consultation with young women and girls nationally
- Ensure that there are no barriers for young women and girls to attend the #FelMerch conference based on language

“It always seems impossible until it's done. There is always a way around this, even if you have to ask for help, help is not weakness.”

Francesca Antoniazzi

Basketball player for Cardiff Met Archers in the British Women's Premier League

“The conference was great and a lot of fun. The topics discussed were extremely interesting. The whole weekend was brilliantly coordinated, and it was an unforgettable experience.”

“The weekend as a whole was amazing. Plenty of variety, well presented, and very inspiring.”

“It was a thrilling weekend that was extremely well organised.”

“The guest speakers were very empowering and showed me that I can start now, and it is not too late.”

“The information stands provided ways to move forward and the opportunity to join clubs in our areas.”
